RELIGION IN THE SCHOOLS

In accordance with the mandate of the Constitution of the United States prohibiting the establishment of religion, it is the policy of the Charlottesville City School Board that the Charlottesville City Schools is neutral in matters of religion. This means the Charlottesville City Schools assume no role or responsibility for the religious training of any student and do not become involved in the religious belief, disbelief or doubt of any student.

This neutrality does not preclude or hinder the Charlottesville City Schools in fulfilling its responsibility to educate students to be tolerant and respectful of religious diversity. The Division recognizes that one of its educational responsibilities is to advance the students' knowledge and appreciation of the role that religion has played in the social, cultural, and historical development of civilization.

The Division approaches religion from an objective, curriculum-related perspective, encouraging all students and staff members to be aware of the diversity of beliefs and respectful of each other's religious and/or non-religious views. In the spirit of respect, students and staff members may be excused from participating in activities that are contrary to their religious beliefs.

The School Board may authorize, as an elective in grades nine through 12 with appropriate credits toward graduation, a comparative religion class that focuses on the basic tenets, history, and religious observances and rites of world religions.
